

At the annual Garden Party of the New York Zoological Society at Bronx Park—left to right: Miss Pauline Robinson, Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn and Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair.

© Underwood & Underwood

Henry J. Topping, winner of the recent Ardsley-on-the-Hudson golf tournament. Desirous of being one of the first golfers in the United States, he is reported to have engaged Macdonald Smith, at $2,500 a year for exclusive instruction and coaching. Smith won the "pro" metropolitan championship in 1914.

© Underwood & Underwood

Students of Lasell Seminary, Auburndale, Mass., training for the National Canoeing Race Meet, to be held on the Charles River, Boston, in June.

© International Film Service

At the Belmont Park Terminal meet of the United Hunts Racing Association; left to right—Miss Elizabeth Sands, Miss Pauline Disston and Mrs. Angier B. Duke.

© Underwood & Underwood

Woman "rookies" at the National Service Camp, Chevy Chase, Md.—left, Miss Jean Roberts, of Auburn, Va.; right, Mrs. James Thompson, who was Miss Genovese Clark, daughter of Speaker Champ Clark, of the House of Representatives.

Photo by G. V. Buck from Underwood & Underwood

Finish of the Paumonok Handicap at the opening of the Metropolitan racing season at the Jamaica track. Sand Marsh won, well to the front, while there was a neck-and-neck, gruelling finish for second and third places.

© Underwood & Underwood